GENERAL NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Funeral of Mr. Burleigh.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 17.—The funeral of Rev. C. C. Burleigh, the aged Abolitionist, at Florence this afternoon was attended by 1,200 people. Local Unitarian and Congregational ministers took part. Among the principal speakers was Wm. Lloyd Garrison. Letters were read from Whittier and others.

Daring Jail Delivery.

KEOKUK, Iowa, June 17.—The most daring jail delivery ever attempted here was effected about 4 o'clock to-night by prisoners confined in the jail. As sheriff Higgins was locking up, the prisoners eight in number were in the cage, where they are kept during the day, and as the sheriff stepped to the rear to unlock the door leading to the cells, the prisoners stepped out of the door he had entered and locked him in, and by making a break in a body, succeeded in escaping. Two of them were recaptured.

Destructive Fire.

BOSTON, June 17.—At 10:30 to-night a fire broke out in one of the main buildings of the extensive pork slaughtering and curing establishment of Chas. H. North & Co., Medford street, Somerville. Owing to the highly inflammable character the fire spread rapidly. All save one building were destroyed. The loss is estimated at between $700,000 and $800,000.

Schutzen Corps Parade.

NEW YORK, June 17.—The third parade of the Union Schutzen Corps took place to day and was an imposing affair. Streets through which the procession marched were filled with people, and made gay with profusion of bunting and banners and flags of the United States and Germany. The mayor and common council reviewed the procession, after which the several corps made their way to the Schutzen park.

The Mexican Revolution a Failure.

NEW ORLEANS, June 17.—An Eagle pass special says the Mexican government, having discovered that Gen. Mackenzie is on their soil with American troops, have ordered Col. Nancio (falsely reported dead) to take 100 soldiers and go after Mackenzie. His troops being poorly mounted, it is not expected he will overtake Mackenzie. Gen. Naranjo is expected to arrive at Piedras Negras in a few days and assume command of the department, vice Gen. Falcon, deceased. The general impression is that the revolution is a failure.

WASHINGTON CITY.

This Year's Wheat Crop.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—It is fair to state from reliable data that this year's wheat crop will be 400,000,000 bushels.

The President's Approval of Appropriations.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—A rumor is afloat to-night that the president will accompany his expected approval of the river and harbor appropriation bill with a notification that he will suspend its operations, except so far as it provides for improvements of unquestioned national character and importance. President Grant adopted this course in regard to the river and harbor bill of 1876, and a large number of appropriations were not used until last year.

Corbin's Contest.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Cameron, of Wisconsin, of the sub-committee, to examine the subject, has submitted a report in writing to the effect that Corbin was entitled to his seat. Hill, the other member of the sub-committee, said he had arrived at exactly the opposite conclusion, but was not ready to submit a written report.

After Illicit Distillers.

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The commissioner of internal revenue has telegraphed the collector at Montgomery, Alabama, authorizing him to employ sixteen men for fifteen days for the purpose of arresting illicit distillers who had refuge at Edwardsville, Clayborne county. The commissioner says the leniency extended was with the understanding that violations of law would cease. I now desire that the law shall take its course against all offenders.

ATLANTIC CABLE.

Kaiser William's Condition.

BERLIN, June 17.—The emperor sat up nearly all day Saturday and is progressing favorably.

The Empress' Condition.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 17.—The condition of the empress is improving and no more bulletins will be issued.

End of a Strike Probable.

LONDON, June 17.—A meeting to be held at Accrington to-day is expected to result in the resumption of work in the mills. Representatives of weavers from all the strike districts met at Accrington Sunday and advised the men to return to work, as sufficient funds to support strikers could not longer be obtained.

The Strikers Disagree.

LONDON, June 17.—Of 75 meetings of the operatives in Blackburn region to-day, 50 resolved to go to work at a reduction of wages, 21 not to resume and 4 reached no decision. A large number of operatives throughout Lancashire resumed work to-day at full reduction of wages. The meetings at Burnley were very thinly attended, and the general opinion is the strike is ended.

The War in Africa.

A dispatch from Cape Town, May 20th, says the Caffres have broken up and abandoned Pirie bush. One Caffre chief has been so far settled that a portion of the troops will be sent to Natal as a precaution against trouble with the Zulus.

Spanish Politics.

MADRID, June 17.—The cabinet made the election of a vice president of the cortes a question of confidence, and received 210 votes against 73. The cabinet's position is thus secured until the autumn session. The cortes will adjourn the second week of July, when the court will go to the seaside.

A Cuban loan of $2,500,000 was voted Friday, which is guaranteed by Spain and by pledge of the colonial customs.

A bill for the suppression of bull fights was rejected without division.

Political.

LONDON, June 17.—A Paris letter says some apprehension prevails lest a new attempt be made to put a reactionary ministry in control of the government for the purpose of influencing the coming senatorial elections. Such a step would be the last desperate effort of monarchists to prevent the firm establishment of the republic, and would leave the question of a revision of the constitution open three years longer. Unless the coming elections can be influenced in some such way, the republicans are sure to obtain a majority in the senate. It is impossible to predict whether President MacMahon will lend himself to such intrigues, because his character is little understood.

CANADA.

Break in a Canal.

ST. CATHERINES, June 17.—A break occurred in the Welland canal to-day between Thorold and Allanburg. Navigation is interrupted while repairs are being made.

The Riots Quieted.

QUEBEC, June 17.—The city was perfectly quiet yesterday, and though it was falsely rumored that a meeting was to be held in St. Roque's in the evening no gathering occurred anywhere. The men of the eighth battalion were at the citadel and the [illegible].

A boy of sixteen has just received a sentence of eight years in the New York state prison from a course of dime novels. The worst feature of the case is that the books upon this sentence as a red line laid out in an heroic career.

CONGRESSIONAL.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, June 17.

After brief discussion the [illegible] house bill to organize the [illegible] reorganizes the [illegible] of the treasury [illegible] a number of new stations on the sea and lake coasts, provides for the appointment of a general superintendent by the president and of district superintendents [illegible] by the secretary of the treasury, etc.

By a vote of yeas 21, nays 32, the senate refused to reconsider the vote by which the joint resolution in regard to the eight hour law was postponed till next session.

Cameron, of Pennsylvania, submitted the following:

Resolved, That the committee on education and labor be instructed to inquire into the industrial condition of the country, the extent, nature and causes of the depression of business and enforced idleness of labor, and what remedies, if any, can be provided by national legislation, and also into the expediency of providing a permanent bureau in one of the executive departments for the purpose of gathering and publishing statistics of national industries, and that the committee report by bill or otherwise.

Agreed to.

House.

Thornton offered a preamble and resolution reciting the depressed condition of labor and industry throughout the country and providing for a select committee to sit during recess to inquire into the causes thereof and recommend remedies there for. Adopted.

Consideration was resumed of the tobacco bill, the pending amendment being by Burchard, imposing a tax of 1-24 of one per cent. per month on average amount of bank deposits subject to draft or check, being a modification of the existing law on the subject. The amendment was adopted.

THE POTTER INVESTIGATION.

WASHINGTON, June 17.

The Potter investigation committee held a short session to-day, and H. Conquest Clarke, late private secretary to Gov. Kellogg, was cross-examined by McMahon relative to the second set of Louisiana electoral certificates. Witness said the two lists of returns lay on the table in the committee room in New Orleans, according to his memory, till he gathered them up for forwarding to the secretary of state after the signatures were complete. The only parties signing in the presence of witness that he remembers distinctly were Gov. Kellogg and Mr. Brewster. He thought there were one or two others who signed in his presence, but could not be positive as to that. Did not know whether Levisee or Joffrion were at the time of signing the second set of certificates, and couldn't say positively whether or not they signed personally, but was of opinion that the certificate appearing on the certificate is that of Joffrion, being familiar with the gentleman's signature.

Question: Wasn't it a well known fact among politicians in Louisiana that Judge Levisee was not in town at the time the papers in question were signed? Answer—It was certainly not known to me.

McMahon questioned witness as to who signed the names of Joffrion and Levisee, and witness replied that he knew absolutely nothing about it.

The investigation is adjourned till Wednesday so that members of the committee may be in the house during the closing hours of congress.

The chairman on Saturday sent the following note to Senator Kellogg: SIR—You are requested to attend before the committee of the house of representatives for the investigation of election frauds, etc., at such hour as may suit your convenience, for the purpose of giving testimony with respect of matters in hearing before said committee.

Senator Kellogg replied:

SIR: I have just received your note requesting me to attend before your committee at such hour as may suit my convenience for the purpose of giving testimony, and in reply would say, I would endeavor to attend immediately, but there are matters pending in the senate to day regarding which I have a deep interest. On Monday, after the morning hour, I will endeavor to make such arrangements as will enable me to comply with your request.

A DEMOCRATIC MEASURE.

THE ELECTORAL BILL—WHAT THE DEMOCRATS [illegible]

[From the Chicago Tribune.]

In the senate there was but one vote of that party against it, and only one Democratic senator was absent. In the house there were 151 Democratic votes in favor of the measure, to 19 opposed—more than seven to one. The Republicans, on the other hand, gave a majority of five of their number in favor of the bill in the senate, and were more than two to one opposed to it in the house. Here are some of the Democratic utterances:

In the senate Jan. 23, 1877:

Mr. Sherman—Can you tell me how they will decide?

Mr. Thurman—No. If I could, I should not vote for the bill.

In the senate Jan. 24:

Mr. Bayard—But in the present case we submit the decision as to the matters in question to a certain tribunal, and we command them to do nothing but exercise their own judgment. What that judgment will be we cannot foretell and we have no right to ask.

In the house Jan. 25:

Mr. Hewitt—No man can predict who will become president by virtue of its operation, but all men can predict that it will be the man who is lawfully entitled to be president.

In the house Jan. 26:

Mr. Lamar—I repeat, this bill avoids the necessity of any submission of the defeated party to what it may consider either fraud or force. The result, whatever it may be, will have been reached by the [illegible] of both parties.

Mr. Waddell—[illegible] I should vote for the bill with [illegible] the [illegible] of the commission may [illegible] and those who [illegible]

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

English Public Opinion.

BERLIN, June 17.—It is stated in some quarters that a document printed in London on the 14th inst., contained the proposals submitted by Russia and rejected by England, and that their publication was procured by Russians to prove that they are not repugnant to English public opinion and thus to limit the concessions English representatives may demand in the congress.

Agreements by the Great Powers.

LONDON, June 17.—The Observer says it has reason to believe Austria and Russia have reached an understanding by which the interests of Austria and Hungary will be protected in the same way that English interests are protected by the agreement between Lord Salisbury and Count Schouvaloff.

Prematurely Published.

The premature publication of a letter by the Globe is generally believed to have been procured by Russian diplomatists with the object of quieting excitement in Russia about the supposed concessions to England.

Persia Claims Admission to the Congress.

The statement comes from Paris that Persia claims admission on the ground that the settlement of the eastern question necessarily affects Persian interests.

Turco-Montenegrin Relations.

RAGUSA, June 17.—A report was current here yesterday that hostilities had commenced between Turks and Montenegrins, but up to the present time no confirmation has been received. Montenegrins are actively fortifying their southern frontier. All insurgent chiefs of Herzegovina met in Cettinje to day at the invitation of Montenegro. The object of the meeting is unknown.

Destitute Refugees.

LONDON, June 17.—A telegram from Constantinople reports British consuls will go to Rhodope mountains Thursday to inquire into the condition of destitute refugees there.

Formidable Insurrection.

The insurrection has spread from Gumuldjina to within a short distance of the coast. Insurgents have 15 cannon at Bataka.

Conditions Imposed on Turkey.

BERLIN, June 17.—It is stated that Russia will refuse to evacuate Turkish territory in Roumelia or liberate prisoners of war until Shumla and Varna have been surrendered; the latter being required by the treaty of San Stefano, as well as the former. Negotiations at Constantinople for the surrender have been abandoned.

Turkey's Withdrawal from the Congress.

LONDON, June 17.—A dispatch from Constantinople asserts that the Turkish delegates have been instructed to withdraw from the congress and declare that Turkey prefers to execute the stipulations of the treaty of San Stefano if the congress decided to grant autonomy to Epirus, Thessaly, Bosnia and Herzegovina.

VIENNA, June 17.—Mobilization of Austrian troops is assuming larger proportions.

Conflict at Panderma.

A serious conflict occurred at Panderma between residents and refugees, and it is reported several persons were killed.

Turks Defeated.

CETTINGE, June 17.—Friday Turks from Scutari attacked Montenegrins and were repulsed.

The Vexed Questions in the Congress.

LONDON, June 17.—The questions which threaten the success of the congress are believed to be the cession of Antivari to Montenegro, the position of Roumelia in relation to Turkey, and of the administrative and governmental organization of Roumelia. Bessarabia will be yielded to the personal wishes of the czar, and Roumania will accept Dobrudscha in exchange. Territorial concessions in Armenia will not meet opposition from England. The question of war indemnity will be settled by the appointment of a commission to collect the Turkish revenues and pay a certain proportion to Russia annually, or to capitalize such proportion by foreign loan and pay the Russian claim in bulk. In all these speculations no account is taken of the possible opposition from the Turks themselves. Carathodori Pasha is making preparations for vigorous representation of Turkish interests.

Newspaper Men Steal a March on the Diplomats.

LONDON, June 17.—The Duke of Richmond and Lord Gordon, presidents of the council, replying to Earl Granville in the house of lords to-day said the memorandum of the agreement between England and Russia, published recently, was surreptitiously procured through some person having access to confidential papers. As an explanation of the government's policy he said it was incomplete and therefore inaccurate. The government would, at the earliest moment, give the fullest information.

Monday's Session of the Congress.

BERLIN, June 17.—The session of the congress to-day lasted nearly three hours. The question of the admission of Greece was definitely brought forward, but no decision was reached. The question has assumed more importance than at first expected. Confidence in a peaceful result, which will insure a legitimate influence in the east of the powers powerfully interested, is increasing. An understanding between Russia and Austria is considered certain.

Todleben's Baggage.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 17.—Baggage belonging to the Russian headquarters was removed from San Stefano to-day. It is not known whether Gen. Todleben is going north or toward the center of the Russian line, but the latter direction is thought more probable.

The Siskiyou Mail Robbery.

Additional particulars from the Jacksonville Times: The stage going south last Tuesday night was stopped on the summit of the Siskiyou mountains at about 9 o'clock by two masked men, who demanded Wells, Fargo & Co's box and the mails. There was nothing [illegible] disgorge, after doing which he was allowed to proceed. The express box contained about $100, which the robbers secured. The mail sacks were also cut open and the contents rifled, but how much was obtained from them is not known. It so happened that the registered letters were put into the Yreka sack, which was unmolested, and they escaped. There were seven passengers aboard at the time, but they were not disturbed. Had the highwaymen searched them they would have made a big clean-up. J. Nunan, who was on the inside of the stage, alone had a few thousand dollars in his valise. The box, sacks and such other matter as could be gathered up were brought to Ashland the next morning. We learn that several parties have gone in pursuit of the criminals.

News Away from Home.

The subjoined obtains publicity by way of Washington, Philadelphia and New York. We clip from the Philadelphia Times:

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Senator Mitchell to-night received the following dispatch:

PORTLAND, Oregon, June 4, 1878.

We have had the [illegible] fight ever experienced in Multnomah county. We think we have elected [illegible] of our Republican members of the legislature in this county, but may lose one or two. The indications are that the Oregon legislature will be Republican.

Mechanics' Union and the Miners.

VIRGINIA, June 17.—Superintendents Canavan, Osbiston and Taylor, the committee appointed to confer with a committee of the Mechanics' Union, met the Mechanics' committee, Messrs. Wilkens, Hazlett and Chandler, in Mayor Belknap's office this morning. Superintendent Canavan and Mr. Wilkins conducted the deliberations. The superintendents were willing to accede to all the demands of the union, but they wanted an agreement drawn up covering all the points in dispute, so as to avoid future misunderstanding. They therefore wished to have the matter fully explained, so that they could make a full and satisfactory report. The Mechanics' committee entered into details of their demands at some length, and the superintendents agreed that they were fair and had no doubt that their fellow superintendents would agree with them. It was now 10 o'clock, and Canavan, Osbiston and Taylor withdrew to attend the superintendents' meeting at the Gould & Curry office. At that meeting Superintendents Bonnemort, Patten, Gillette, Deidesheimer, Requa, Schultz, Taylor, Smith, Fornan, Eagen, Boyle, Canavan, Osbiston and Hillyer were present. The report of the committee was received, discussed and considered satisfactory, but somebody thought there ought to be a provision allowing superintendents to engage apprentices. At present none were employed at the mines. The committee were finally directed to meet the mechanics' committee to-morrow evening to draw up an agreement, which will be submitted to the Union and superintendents for ratification.

Homicide.

EUREKA, June 17.—About 4:30 Sunday night, on the arrival of the train from Palisade, Ed Ricar, conductor on the Eureka and Palisade road, was shot by Alf Chartz, one of the lessees of the Eureka Republican newspaper. The difficulty occurred in front of the International hotel, just as the bus drove from the depot. Ricar was on the bus, and Chartz seems to have been lying in wait for him. The difficulty grew out of personal items in the Republican which were distasteful to Ricar. As the bus drew up Ricar, who was on the outside, jumped to the ground. He was accosted by Chartz and some words passed about a settlement of the affair. Ricar said, "We will settle it right here," and began to take off his coat, when Chartz drew his pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the left breast and lodging in the spinal column. The wounded man is still alive, but the doctors say he must die. Chartz ran to the jail and gave himself up. There is universal indignation and strong talk of lynching. The sheriff keeps the jail closely watched. Ricar was one of the most popular men in the county. Ricar had no weapon of any kind when shot down. The officers threaten to arrest other parties as accessories to the crime.

The International Review.

This bi-monthly, published by A. S. Barnes & Co., maintains its original plan of an impartial award of pages to foreign and domestic writers. James Anthony Froude makes a beginning of an essay on "Science and Theology, Ancient and Modern." Angelo de Gubernatis contributes an article on Italian politics called "The New King of Italy and the New Pope," and Mme. Villari adds two chapters more to her account of "Learned Women of Bologna." Articles strictly American are presented in good quantity. There is a question interesting to New York and the "great west" in the paper on the future of the Erie canal, written by John B. Jarvis, civil engineer; and the "Elements of National Wealth," by David A. Wells, comes to a third chapter. Judge Chas. A. Peabody writes about an incident of the late civil war in a paper called "The United States Provisional Court for the State of Louisiana." Henry C. Pedder is the writer of an essay on "Reason and Sentiment." Mark Hopkins, the ex president of Williams College, begins a series entitled "The Moral Problem, and Dr. Philip Schaff and D. Lyman Abbott write articles to a general heading of "The Bible." Dr. Schaff attends to "Egyptology," and Dr. Lyman to the Gospel of St. John. This is a remarkably varied and important table of contents.

Russian Proverbs.

The wolf asked the goat to dinner, but the goat declined.—A fox sleeps, but counts hens in his dreams.—The wolf changes his hair every year, but remains a wolf.—Dog, why Dog, why do you keep your tail between your legs? I am afraid of the wolf.—Love, fire, and a cough cannot be hid.—Make friends with a bear but keep hold of the ax.—Everything is bitter to him who has gall in his mouth.—A full stomach is deaf to instruction. If you hunt two hares you will catch neither. God is not in haste, but His aim is sure.—You may shut the door on the devil, but he will enter the window.—Praise not the crop until it is stacked.—It is not necessary to plow and sow fools—they grow of themselves.—With God go even over the sea; without Him not over the threshold. Truth is not drowned in water, nor burned in fire.—A fool may throw a stone into a pond; it may take seven ages to pull it out.—No bones are broken by a mother's fist.—Whose bread and whose salt I eat, his praise I sing.—Lies march on rotten legs; who lies will steal.

Hendricks Meditates a Revolt.

[From the New York Tribune.]

Hendricks is said to be meditating a sort of Democratic revolution against Tilden. His friends make no secret of the fact that he is greatly enraged by the Potter movement, insisting upon it as a mere lever to raise Tilden to a renomination. Mr. Hendricks considers this a breach of [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the fight at once. [illegible] [illegible] This is the [illegible] [illegible] gossip in Indiana [illegible]

THE IDAHO INDIAN WAR!

Praying and Fighting.

[illegible] City, Idaho, June 17.—A messenger who arrived from Camp Lyon this morning brings news that Gen. Howard set out from there this morning all right. He intends to strike for the Owyhee river, a distance of 70 miles, and expects to intercept Stewart's forces on the way. He was accompanied by some members of his staff, a few soldiers and Sarah Winnemucca, in all a party of about a dozen. Religious services were held at Camp Lyon last night. Gen. Howard made a devout prayer invoking Almighty God to soften the hearts of the savages and bring them to a realizing sense of their nefarious conduct. Many who heard the general say that he makes a most effective prayer. The members of the staff did nobly in singing. Howard is very indignant at the suggestion that he should be relieved by Crook.

Indians Burning Buildings.

The Indians are reported to be burning buildings at Stein's mountains and committing other depredations. A large number of Utes are held in [illegible] on account of a refusal to join the hostiles. Leo Winnemucca is reported killed.

Movement of Soldiers.

Three columns will be moving on the hostiles' position at Stein's Mountain to-morrow, viz., from Sheep Ranch, Camp Harney and Malheur.

Settlers at White Horse in Danger.

Settlers at White Horse are hourly expecting an attack from the hostiles. The Indians made a raid to-day on Burnt River near Express ranch, capturing a large number of horses.

Movement of Troops.

BOISE CITY, June 17.—For the past three or four days nothing new has been developed in the Indian situation. The hostiles are understood to be making for Stein's mountains, some distance in advance of the troops. Howard is making every possible effort to concentrate the troops and follow the trail of the Indians. He left Sheep ranch Sunday morning with Col. Bernard's cavalry for Camp Lyon, and left the latter place this morning for the store house at the crossing of Malheur on the Eldorado road, which point they will reach to-morrow. Col. Whipple, with two companies of cavalry, arrived at Sheep ranch just after the departure of Howard, where he found orders to follow and join Howard as soon as possible. Capt. Stewart's command, consisting of four companies of infantry, will join Gen. Howard at the crossing of the Malheur. Maj. Sanford's command, consisting of three companies of cavalry now in the vicinity of King Hill, will come to this place where they will join a company of cavalry commanded by Capt. Bendire, when the whole force will move toward the crossing of the Malheur under [illegible]. Two [illegible] troops now at Duck valley, with [illegible] the [illegible] under command of Col. Adams, are ordered to Sheep Ranch and will form the left wing of the army. Gen. Crook's forces are on the way from Ft. Hall to the Big Camas Prairie and are expected to hear [illegible] of this part of the field. High [illegible] are reported to be gathering in the neighborhood of Stein's mountain. General Howard's movements would indicate that they have [illegible] more [illegible] [illegible] Four mountains [illegible] Camp Lyon is made a sub depot for supplies while Fort Boise is the general supply depot.

DEALING WITH SCAB IN SHEEP.

[From the Pacific Rural Press.]

Several of our Western [illegible] who believe in having clean sheep, have, from time to time, expressed their appreciation of the need of some legislation which should prevent the spread of the scab from dirty-kept flocks to well-kept ones, which may be pasturing in the neighborhood. It does seem hard that a man who goes to the trouble and expense of fighting the disease in his flock, should be continually liable to its introduction from other sheep, who deposit the insect or its young everywhere, so that the pest may be taken up by all sound animals which come afterward.

The attention of those who have thought upon this subject has turned naturally to the Australian provinces, because it is generally known that Australian flockmasters have fought the scab with stringent laws, and have, to a degree, succeeded in reducing the evil. A writer in the Auckland (New Zealand) News says:

There is but one principle upon which a scab act should be based, and that is, entire destruction of all infected stock, with compensation to the owners. It is now some five or six and twenty years since a scab act embodying this principle was passed by the old legislative council of New South Wales, which, at that time, included Queensland, and for more than twenty years of the subsequent period the disease has been unknown, except by name, in either of these colonies. So far as my memory serves me, this act provided: 1st, for levying a rate of, I think, 2d a head on all sheep, to provide a fund for its working, for compensation; 2d, for enforcing under a heavy penalty that upon discovery or suspicion of scab in any flock, the owner or person in charge should at once report to the inspector of his district, who, upon finding the sheep diseased, shall give orders for their slaughter and destruction by fire in their wool, which had to be completed within a fortnight. Previous to being slaughtered it was provided that the sheep should be valued by competent parties on behalf of the owner and the government at their market value as clean sheep, the certificate of which value, accompanied by the inspector's certificate of destruction, forming a claim upon the Colonial treasury for, I think, three-fourths of the amount assessed. This act, within two or three years of its passing, was effectual in stamping out the disease in New South Wales and Queensland, and a vigorous quarantine at the ports and on the borders has kept it out. The assessment has long ago ceased or fallen to a nominal amount, and the two colonies have been gainers to the extent of many hundreds of thousands of pounds sterling, for their sheep have been free to travel in any direction without any restriction more than a simple inspection, enabling them to supply unlimited breeding stock for new country in the north and northwest, and countless thousands of fat sheep and stores to the butchers and graziers of Victoria, while the southern colonies of Victoria and Tasmania up to the present time cannot send a score of rams either by sea or land to their northern neighbors, without the sheep having to undergo a long and expensive quarantine.

Washington Constitutional Convention.

[From the Walla Walla Watchman.]

Pursuant to law and the governor's proclamation, the convention met at 12 o'clock M., June 11th, at Science Hall in this city, which had been prepared for the occasion. Colonel George called them elected president, J. B. Daniels secretary and John Bryant sergeant at arms, temporarily. A committee on credentials was next appointed consisting of O. P. Lacy, Geo. Stewart and C. M. Bradshaw, after which the convention adjourned. At the second day's session the following members responded to their names as read from the report of the committee:

Delegates at Large—W. A. George, Edward Eldridge and S. M. Gilmore.

Judicial Districts—S. M. Wait, B. F. Dennison and Chas. H. Larabee.

Council Districts—C. M. Bradshaw, H. B. Emery, L. B. Andrews, D. B. Hannah, Francis Henry, A. S. Abernethy, Geo. H. Steward, O. P. Lacy and J. V. Odell.

Delegate from Northern Idaho—Alonzo Leland.

The convention then proceeded to elect officers, which resulted as follows: A. S. Abernathy president; W. Byron Daniels secretary; Wm. S. Clark, assistant secretary; H. O. Cook, sergeant at arms; John Bryant first, and John W. Norris second, messenger. The convention is proceeding with its work.

PROPAGATION OF FOOD FISHES

We are indebted to the New York World for an extended and careful review of the report just published [illegible] Our Fisheries and the Propagation of Food Fishes by Prof Baird [illegible] United States commissioner of fish and fisheries and [illegible] assistant secretary of the Smithsonian Institute. The chief divisions of the report consist of an [illegible] of the history and work of the commission [illegible] the increase of food fishes within the waters of the United States and directions for their propagation together with an account of what has been accomplished in the propagation [illegible] during the years covered by the report. Several articles treat of the cultivation both in America and Europe of different varieties of fish and the salmon of the Pacific coast receive especial attention.

In reviewing this subject the World remarks that the importance of pisciculture must be measured by the fact that there has of late been great danger that if nature were left to herself the supply of edible fish which forms so great a part of the subsistence of man would soon be seriously diminished. London annually receives as many pounds of fish as it consumes of beef and [illegible] 000 000 pounds of shad and herring have been taken from the Potomac river in a single year but there has been no such catch in the Potomac river for a number of years past because the supply has been much diminished by reckless and wasteful fishing. It is evident that since supplies so important have suffered great diminution money is well spent when it is laid out in a way which promises to restore the population of the principal streams of the country. Most ample returns have already been yielded by the artificial introduction and cultivation of fish. Of late several European governments have turned their attention to the matter and as Prof Baird's report shows have been greatly aided by the United States and yet so late as 18[illegible] when Seth Green to whose labors our piscicultural success is largely due importuned congress for a small appropriation of money to carry out his experiments it was peremptorily refused and the projector himself was looked upon as little better than a crazy enthusiast. Having shown that the water can be cultivated even more successfully than the land for the good of man and at far less expenditure of time labor and money, Mr Green has a fair right to smile at conservatives as they once smiled at him. In 1871 the first legislation was obtained on the subject. A commission was appointed by the president to investigate the alleged diminution of edible fishes along the sea coast and in the lakes and rivers of the United States and to suggest proper methods of restoring the supply. In the second year of its work the additional duty of propagating and restoring fish was laid upon the commission and since then there has been a regular appropriation for the purpose.

It is folly to suppose that the supply of fish in any stream is inexhaustible. In the Potomac river for example not more than one pound of shad and herring is now caught where fifty pounds were taken forty years ago and we have actually seen that the catch of salmon in our own great river the Columbia is growing appreciably less. But these fish, and others of excellent varieties are easily propagated and are enormously prolific. Shad will be gradually introduced anew into every river opening into the Atlantic and salmon into the northern streams. Mr Green placed one hundred million shad in the Connecticut river, and the result was that not long ago 3 560 shad were caught in one net, which was a greater haul than had previously been made within this century. Connecticut salmon, weighing thirteen pounds each the fruit of artificial propagation, have recently been exhibited and sold in New York. Less than a week ago a large shipment of young fry of several varieties left Washington city for Sacramento. Part of them are now being dropped in Green river.

Twenty states now have fish commissions each with funds at its disposal and under the present system supplies of eggs are furnished by the United States commission from its hatching station to the commissioners of these several states, who defray the cost of transportation development and introduction into state waters. This great and most important work has as yet only begun. It will develop into results of the highest general utility and value. It is for our own state to consider whether it should not prepare to avail itself of the advantages thus offered to prevent the depopulation of its rivers. A section of the governor's message to the legislature might well be devoted to it.

INDIANS AND THE ARMY

In an article on the present Indian disturbances, the Philadelphia Times urges that mountain volunteers be called into the service of the government. It says if the war is to be fought through with regular troops the Indians know well that the end will be a treaty and compensation for their savagery. The remark is added that there are men in congress who understand this question and they should now demand that the peace of the Indian country and the safety of the sturdy pioneers of the west should be preserved by the only preparations for war which [illegible] tions.

If this would imply that the regular army cannot fight Indians efficiently it is an unjust reflection upon a body of men who have shown over and over again that they shrink on these occasions from no hardship and danger and are not wanting in energy or intelligence for so exacting and yet so inglorious a service. It would be difficult if not impossible to hold any force of volunteers to work so hot and deadly as that borne by the regular troops in recent battles with Indians for however brave as men volunteers do not follow the discipline nor adhere to the habits of obedience necessary for such severe service. And for like reason it would be difficult if not impossible to induce them to [illegible] the fatigue hardships and privations [illegible] the regulars undergo. [illegible] members. A [illegible] [illegible] by Howard [illegible] companies [illegible]

But in no other sense [illegible] is just. The army has not a fair chance because government dignifies every murderous outbreak on the part of Indians with the name of war and when the perpetrators finally tired of scalping, running off [illegible] and fighting at last offer their surrender according to articles of war as observed between belligerent states and protect them against the consequences of their acts. If government would seize out the ringleaders and [illegible] them [illegible] or give them [illegible] dealt with [illegible] communities [illegible] Indians know [illegible] would be swiftly [illegible] [illegible] substantial [illegible] starving [illegible] that we must leave [illegible] killing, when all is done. Government [illegible] the hanging [illegible] exhibits [illegible] mistaken ideas of [illegible] and absurd as starving [illegible] fear that the witnesses of the tragedy [illegible] where the killing was to be done.

Hon Martin Maginnis delegate in congress from Montana represents a territory which knows by experience the need of an efficient military force and his speech against reduction of the army was much the ablest delivered in congress on either side of the question. His time was limited to five minutes and a large number of representatives was entitled to speak but his entirely original and eloquent style of argument in opposition to reduction interested the house and with one accord half a dozen representatives yielded him their time and he was thus enabled to finish his remarks which were greeted with great applause on the floor and in the galleries.

A Salem paper says Gen Lane has telegraphed the governor expressing a wish to command the state troops in case it becomes necessary to employ such force to go against the Indians. A brilliant campaign just now against the Indians would make Gen Lane United States senator.

The New York Tribune reprints the dispatches which announced the result of the Oregon election under head lines which run thus: First lesson of the Campaign. A Republican congressman and legislature thrown away in a vain effort to return an unpopular United States senator.

Bland of Missouri author of the silver bill that didn't pass wants fifty millions spent on the Mississippi between St Louis and the gulf and according to the Tribune's report he wants the money printed and shuffled out at once. But he makes no progress.

A paper published recently in the New York Times advised the Republicans to overboard Stanley Matthews and Secretary Sherman. It created quite a sensation in Washington.

The Democrats got an appropriation of $20 000 for the Potter investigation and now they don't believe they are getting the worth of their money.

Brother Orvil Talks Freely

[From the New York Tribune.]

Brother Orvil Grant is sure that the third term is inevitable. He knows Orvil does that the general is laying wires for it that he went to Europe not because he wished to, but because his friends said it would help secure a renomination. In short Orvil seems to have a fresh attack of his old trouble—talking too freely with his mouth.

DOUBLE HOMICIDE.—Particulars of a double homicide which occurred [illegible] Salmon river over on the coast last Saturday [illegible] received. A white man named [illegible] Dodson, it appears had a quarrel with an Indian about some beef cattle. The two met on a narrow trail near the coast when an altercation began. Words led to blows when Dodson and the Indian grappled. The Indian was armed with a knife with murderous purpose. He stabbed Dodson several times about the shoulders and back of the neck. Finding that he was getting the worst of the fight, Dodson drew his revolver and shot the Indian killing him instantly. The affray was witnessed by two white men and ten Indians. Several of the Indians assailed Dodson after the fall of his antagonist. They grappled and struggled for some moments, when one of the Indians picked up a shotgun heavily charged with buckshot, and discharged it, the contents taking effect in Dodson's back. He died instantaneously. The two white men who were witnesses attempted to interfere to protect Dodson before he was killed, but they were immediately set upon by a number of the Indians who overpowered them and held them until the fatal shot was given. No violence was offered the two men, the Indians simply holding them fast. After Dodson was killed the Indians let the two white men go and, mounting their ponies, rode rapidly away. Chief Sam of the Nestucks, was present during the affray but did not offer to interfere to prevent bloodshed. Soon after the double tragedy the men left the scene. One of them mounted a horse and rode post haste to Dallas to notify the authorities there of the affair. On reaching that place it was ascertained that the crime had not been committed in Polk county, so he rode on over to Salem to procure a bench warrant from Judge Boise. It is not improbable that serious difficulty may result from the tragical affair.

BIBLE READINGS.—Quite a large audience assembled in the Presbyterian Church last evening to listen to the interesting and instructive readings of the Bible by Rev Mr Brown. Many very suggestive turns of thought and freshness of application are made in connection with texts which with many persons have become trite by their hackneyed use. The general expressions of the hearers were those of delight and satisfaction, and there seemed to be regrets that the services could not be extended. At noon to-day Mr Brown will give a Bible reading by request on "Spiritual Adoration for Service." The service will be held in the rooms of the Y M C A commencing at 12 o'clock, and lasting one hour. Another Bible reading service will be held in the Presbyterian church this evening at 7.30. All persons are urged to bring their Bibles with them. Gospel Hymns No 1 is the book used for singing.

TWO YEARS FOR FORGERY.—In the circuit court, yesterday, T. J. Blake who is quite widely known on this coast, was sentenced to the penitentiary for two years for the crime of forgery. Blake was a man of good education, and years ago was a fine talker and writer, moving in the best circles of society. He has traveled extensively on the Pacific coast, and was an excellent mining expert. For a long time, however he has been on the downward road accelerating his speed as much as possible by spending all he could earn or 'bum' for whisky. He is about sixty years old and two years will be about time enough for the bad whisky which he has taken in the last fifteen years to get out of his system.

MR. KINROSS' BENEFIT.—The concert to be given as a complimentary benefit to Mr Kinross gives promise of being a grand affair. Rehearsals will be held almost nightly this week, and as each singer takes a hearty personal interest in the affair the choruses will be rendered in fine style. The concert will probably take place on Saturday evening.

ILL.—We regret to state that Mrs Ina Spaulding, who has been teaching in Watson's Addition for some time past is at present lying very low with pneumonia. Little hopes are entertained of her recovery. The friends of Mr. Charles H. Friendly will regret to learn that he is confined to his room with neuralgia of the eye.

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR

Yesterday the following news was received at military headquarters in this city from Sheep Ranch near the Owyhee bearing date of June 15th:

Sarah Winnemucca came in to night bringing her sister in law. Sarah visited the hostile camp in disguise, and reports as follows: She found her father, Eagan, Oits and the Piutes of their bands retained as prisoners by a horde of Bannacks, Nez Perces, Shoshones and others numbering about 500. They have a position in the rugged Stein mountains country near Juniper Lake. Sarah, her father her sister in law and a few others escaped last night, others tried to escape but were overtaken. She said they heard firing and fears they are killed. One of the Indian scouts claims to have killed Buffalo Horn. Sarah says their leader was killed in a skirmish with citizens in which the scout was engaged. Bannacks are not united. Everything tends toward Stein mountain. Bernard, with Whipple's command starts from here to-morrow. Stewart, from Rhinehart's crossing Malheur, Grover with Sanford's command from Keene's ferry. Egbert's reserve is at Camp Lyons. Cochran to await him there.

DISPATCH TO GOV. CHADWICK.

The following telegram will require no explanation:

SILVER CITY Idaho June 16 1878
To S F Chadwick Governor of Oregon: All troops are ordered to Camp Lyons. Stewart is gone on the way two days. Reported hostile Indians in force near Stein's mountain. This side families have all left Willow creek

WEBSTER'S GREATEST ARGUMENT

From Harvey's Reminiscences of Webster

My forensic efforts have been those which have pleased me most. The two arguments that have given me the most satisfaction were the argument in the steamboat case and the Dartmouth college argument. The steamboat case you remember was a question of the constitutionality of the right of New York state to give a monopoly to Fulton and his heirs forever of the privilege of plying the waters of the Hudson with his steamboats. The people of New York felt that their rights were at stake and their great lawyers were engaged on that side. Mr Wirt and myself were employed against the monopoly. When the case came to be argued before the supreme court at Washington we met for consultation. Mr Wirt asked me upon what grounds I based my case. My reply was that the clause of the constitution which ceded to the general government the right to regulate commerce was that upon which I based my defence. Mr Wirt's reply to that was that he did not see in that line of argument any ground for my case to rest upon. I said "Very well, what is yours?" It was a totally different class [illegible] which he found the grounds for his argument. I said to him "Mr Wirt I will be as frank with you as you have been with me and say that I do not see the slightest ground to rest our case upon in your view of it." "Very well" replied Mr Wirt "let each argue it in his own way and we will find out which is right."

The case came on for argument. Mr Wirt made one of his brilliant arguments before the court. I followed with my view. I can see the chief justice as he looked at that moment. Chief Justice Marshall always wrote with a quill. He never adopted the barbarous invention of steel pens. And always before [illegible] the chief justice [illegible] when everything was ready pulling up the sleeve of his gown he would [illegible] I am ready now [illegible] I think I never experienced [illegible] great man who [illegible]

The result of the court was [illegible] less than a record of my argument.

The local monetary situation is reported easy with an ample supply of loanable funds in bank to meet the current demand. Rates on loans and discount on commercial paper remain about as heretofore at 10@12 per cent, with not more than the usual call on the surplus available funds.

Business shows some increased activity but still there is much room for improvement. The money required for the movement of the wool and other products this season is not proportionately great, and in these respects there has been some disappointment, as both branches of business are notably dull for the season.

News of a business character from San Francisco and the east is generally unimportant, and the outlook for the future is not the most cheerful. In the great cities on the Atlantic coast there is still heard much complaint on account of the dull times, and while the crops in agricultural sections nearly everywhere are reported to be more than usually promising, the manufacturing interests seem to be greatly depressed, and throughout New England very many factories are running on short time or shut down entirely. Large stocks of dry goods have accumulated at nearly all points both east and west and prices have gone down until it no longer pays to run factories, and people are thrown out of employment by the hundreds who were dependent upon their daily labor for their support. These facts indicate bad management somewhere, but the remedy is not to be found in any of the foolish agitating measures set on foot by unwise or unscrupulous politicians in congress who seek to gain notoriety at the expense of the peace of the country. Business activity and prosperity will only return when such men are forced into private life by the votes of a long suffering people.

The house of representatives on the 5th instant struck out the enacting clause of Wood's bill for a new tariff, thus disposing of that measure for the present session at least. As but little legislation has been done to benefit the business or commercial interests of the people, the country will not regret to realize that the congress will close its labors for the present session, in all probability in another week.

Domestic Produce.

According to our dispatches, Europe has so nearly settled the political questions that have heretofore agitated the great powers that politics are no longer a factor in calculating the prices of grain, and all accounts agree in indicating a settlement of wheat quotations to a peace basis. Hence we must look to other circumstances than the prospect of war to affect the market in favor of the producers of that cereal on this coast. One fact indicative of fair prices are the reports, both by mail and telegraph, of bad weather for the English crop. Again, the stocks on hand in the principal grain centers is very considerably below average, but this is now being offset by heavy imports into England, the great consumer of the world's product of breadstuffs.

In California the harvest has begun, but sufficient progress has not been made to determine whether the yield will turn out equal to expectation or to exceed it but on the point that that state will have a larger surplus by 20 per cent than in any previous year, the best judges there all agree.

In our own state the weather has been rather too hot for the greatest promotion of the growth and perfection of the grain, but still we learn of but little or no injury to the plant so far, and the general drift of advices is indicative of the large yield heretofore expected.

The wool clip is now coming forward very freely, but the market is unimproved from the depressed condition noticed last week. There are some buyers in the market, but they are operating with extreme caution, under advices from the eastern manufacturing districts of a very discouraging character. Hence transactions in the local market have not been of great volume, the larger proportion of receipts being shipped to San Francisco where the outlook is regarded as somewhat better for placing the staple. A great many growers throughout the state are "pooling" their wool, a plan which is more convenient for heavy buyers, and which has heretofore resulted in an advantage to the producers.

The quotation of the probable tonnage supply for the movement of the wheat surplus is becoming more definitely settled by the large number of vessels arriving and headed for San Francisco and the Columbia river, and it is now regarded as probable that an abundant freight supply will be had at low rates, but as yet ship owners and shippers have not been able to meet each other's views as to prices, and for our port but few charters for the new crop loading have been effected. Although there are now 8 or 10 vessels suitable for the trade at hand, some of which have been waiting over three weeks, there is little disposition shown to take them up.

DR. PAUL V. BRENAN.

His Wonderful Success

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

Chronic and Difficult Diseases.

He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease, in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease, mentally and physically, he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis, and all diseases of the throat and chest, by an entirely new system only known to himself. Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs, including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success, not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of, and never fails to give relief at once, and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints, and understands their delicate and refined organization, as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who cannot well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally, and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions, must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia, as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION.

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind, who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so-called Doctors, through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves, prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M. BRENAN, the Medical Lecturer, and read his sign on his door.
